

Highfield

The ideal venue for your business meeting,
wedding reception or family party

A room with a view...

Highfield, the home of Leek Cricket Club, is the ideal venue for business meetings, seminars, small conferences, weddings and social events. With panoramic views over the Staffordshire Moorlands countryside and a truly tranquil location, Highfield provides the perfect setting for your special occasion.

The modern clubhouse and function room, which can accommodate up to 120 people, offers flexible facilities that can be adapted to meet your needs. Extensive lawns can accommodate a marquee for up to 300 guests and there is ample car parking.

You can provide your own catering or alternatively take advantage of our friendly catering and bar service to guarantee a successful event.

Built in 2001, the modern clubhouse facility is available for private hire throughout the year. The clubhouse is fully DDA compliant and is equipped with a large kitchen and licensed bar selling a range of beers from Hydes brewery.

The clubroom has a bespoke cricket-themed carpet and clock, together with a hardwood dance floor. Viewings of the clubroom can be arranged by appointment or on any match day.

We are here to help you and we guarantee our personal attention to ensure that your booking of Highfield exceeds your expectations.

Business meetings and corporate events

The clubroom is ideal venue for your meeting and conference. Measuring 13m x 13m, it can be configured to meet your individual needs.

Examples of the room capacity by layout are:

- Theatre – 120 people
- Cabaret – 90 people
- Board – 40 people
- Open 'U' – 60 people

A range of corporate equipment is available on site, including:

- WiFi access
- Television
- White screen
- Projector and screen
- Two flip chart stands
- Mains water cooler

A choice of hot and cold menus is available upon request. Vegetarian and special dietary requirements can be catered for.

If you require an annexe to the main room, the dressing rooms can be set up for this purpose and our extensive grounds are at your disposal.

The club provides a regular training venue for a major financial organisation and is used by a broad range of private and public sector bodies for meetings and conferences.

Wedding receptions

Leek Cricket Club prides itself on meeting your requirements for this special day. You can tailor the day to personal tastes. You can provide your own table and room decorations, choice of caterer and menu, together with your own choice entertainment; it really is your day.

The clubroom can seat 100 guests for a meal or 120 guests for an evening reception.

For those in need of something larger, couples can choose to have their wedding celebration in a marquee on the Highfield lawns.

The extensive lawns can accommodate a marquee for three hundred guests. Alternatively it is possible to attach a marquee to the clubroom accessible from the patio doors.

The mature grounds can provide a tranquil backdrop to wedding photographs and there is ample parking.

Special occasions

Christenings, balls, proms, concerts, retirements, Christmas parties, band concerts, auctions and bingo – Leek Cricket Club has hosted them all, so whatever your requirements you are assured of a warm welcome at Highfield.

Our history

Leek Cricket Club occupies the former grounds of Highfield Hall home to Sir Arthur Nicholson. The hall no longer stands but the gate lodge and stable block both remain as private residences.

The hall was visited by King George V and Queen Mary in 1913. The estate has many mature trees – including the majestic Cedar Walk – and has panoramic views across the Churnet Valley.
