League-level questions: what players were asked

As part of the National Cricket Playing Survey 2016, players from the Surrey Championship were asked the following questions

Considering
Change

If we were to reduce the number of overs to primarily enable earlier finishes, what would be your ideal number of overs per innings?

Considering
Change

If we were to consider changing the start time for fixtures, what would be your ideal start time?

Bespoke question

We are considering creating an open division format for 2nd XI and below. Clubs could enter as many teams as they wish and those teams would 'find their own level via 2 up/2 down promotion and relegation – so a stronger club's 5th XI could play in the same division as another's 3rd XI. Would you support this change?

League-level questions: who were the respondents

This is how many players responded:

Total: 358

National Breakdown
Core	Occasional	Cameo
29%	48%	23%

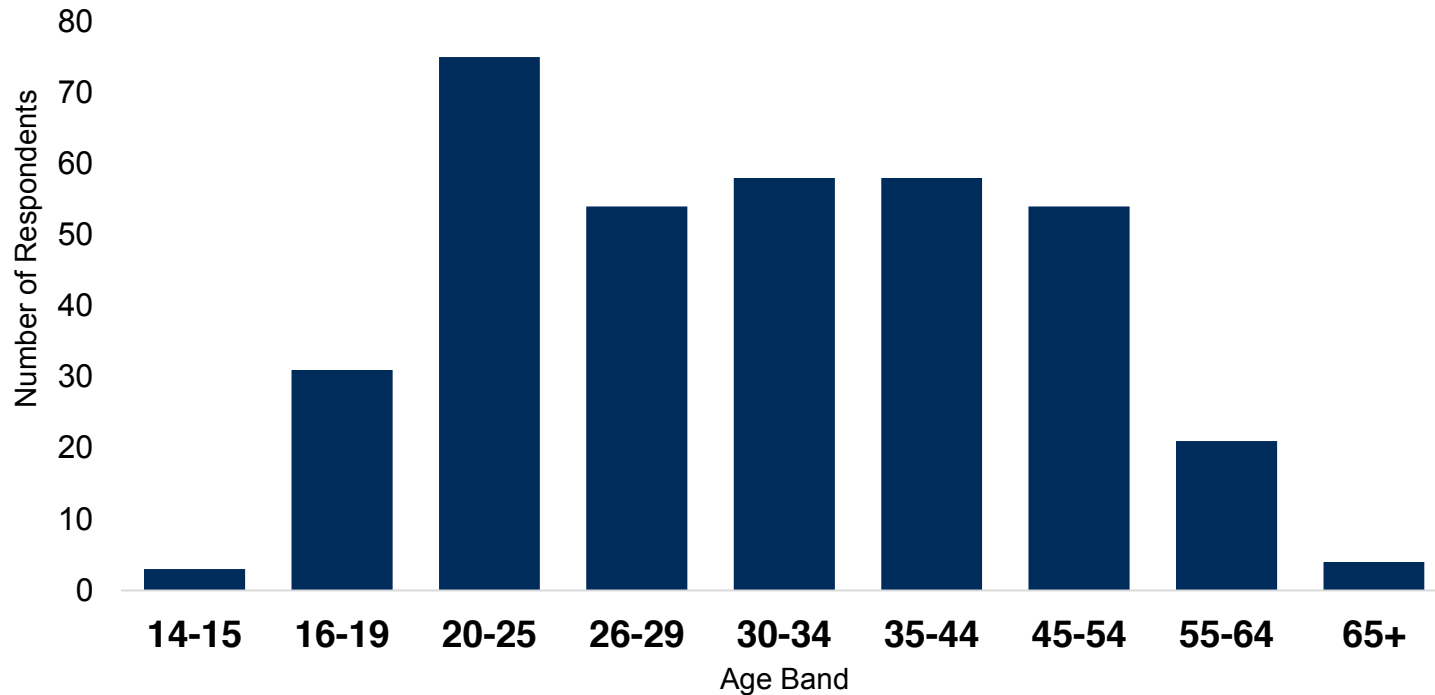

Though your response base is likely to be 'Core-heavy', the majority of your players are probably occasionalists and cameos whose views need consideration
